Get Wild

Challenge

Do 50 wild things to get your badge

Help us celebrate our 50th year by taking part in our Get Wild badge! Individuals, families, schools and groups can all get involved by doing 50 wild activities to earn their award.

On this printable activity sheet, you will find 100 wild activities to choose from. You need to complete 50 of these to earn your challenge badge. You can tick them off as you do them, or if you are at one of Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's qualifying events, we will stamp it for you.

The activities are organised into five categories - Action for Wildlife, Discover and Learn, Explore, Be Active, and Be Creative. You can choose whichever activities you would like to do, or you may want to set yourself or your group an extra challenge to complete 10 from each!

Look out for the  symbol for activities that have a handy fact sheet that you can find on our Wildlife Watch website: www.wildlifewatch.org.uk/activity-sheets

Once you have completed your 50 wild activities you will need to send your activity sheet back to us with the completed form and enclose £1.50 for your chosen badge. You can choose from either a pin badge or sew on badge.

Most of the activities can be done almost anywhere outdoors; school playgrounds or fields, parks, woods, nature reserves or in your own garden. Why not see how many different places you can do the activities in? Or see how many of Staffordshire Wildlife Trust nature reserves you can visit? To find out more about our reserves, visit: www.staffs-wildlife.org.uk/explore/our-nature-reserves

You can also tick off many of the activities when attending the family events and activities that we run throughout the year. Look out for the challenge badge logo next to events for qualifying activities. See our what's on page to find out more: www.staffs-wildlife.org.uk/events
